FROM OTTAWA

Bulletin Correspondence.

June 30th, 1903.

The bill to grant aid to the Canadian Northern Railway from Grand View to Edmonton and from a point beyond Edmonton to Prince Albert, was considered in committee of the whole yesterday. The bill is the same as the resolutions which were adopted some time ago, and which have already appeared in the Bulletin. The opposition did not make any attempt at effective criticism of the actual provisions of the bill, but attempted to use its introduction as a means of securing a declaration of policy from the government in regard to the Grand Trunk Pacific scheme.

Judging from the position taken by the opposition, it is merely a trifling matter to open up the Saskatchewan valley by a new and competing railway line. They have no time for such small things and want to know what the government is going to do about a transcontinental scheme, whether the Canadian Northern is to form a part of such a scheme, or whether an entirely distinct transcontinental railway provision is contemplated. The minister of railways met the criticism and enquiry made by stating that the government had under consideration such a project, but was not yet in a position to declare its policy. As a contribution to the discussion E. P. Clarke, of Toronto, declared himself as opposed to the duplicating of the C. P. R. through Northern Ontario. His policy was that the government should acquire the existing C. P. R. line north of Lake Superior, and give the C. P. R., the Canadian Northern, the Grand Trunk and the Canada Atlantic running rights over it as a means of securing better communication between the railway systems of Eastern and Western Canada. The idea that the country should buy over again a piece of road which it has already paid for when for the same money it could build a parallel piece of road opening up a different country, and, relieved from many unfavorable conditions, is certainly brilliant, but will scarcely appeal to the majority of the electors. The ex-minister of public works was also heard from a great length and with considerable vigor. He showed that the Canadian Northern traversed a part of the United States, south of the Lake of the Woods, and took alarm at the possibility of a connection being established from that part of the C. N. R. to Duluth, whereby the traffic of the Canadian West might be diverted to United States ports. It was of no avail that the minister of the interior pointed out to him the vast expenditure made by the Canadian Northern at Port Arthur in elevator and terminal facilities as proving that their interest lay in carrying trade to the Canadian port in which they had spent so much money. He saw a possibility of the C. N. R. system being acquired by United States capitalists and wanted that possibility guarded against in the legislation. When it was pointed out to him that no legislation could prevent the passing of a controlling interest of the stock of any railway company into foreign hands, he had no reply to make except to reiterate his first assertion. As far as could be judged from the course of the debate the opposition are in favor of the Canadian Northern and against the Grand Trunk, while the ex-minister of public works, being pledged solely to the C. P. R. is against both the Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk.

The clause of the bill which is of most importance to the people of the Northwest, namely that in regard to control of rates, was held over at the request of the minister, presumably to permit of definite arrangements as to that control. The bill was left in committee for further consideration.

Government Railroad To The West

Tribune.
Ottawa, July 3.—The government is expected to make an announcement this week regarding its policy in respect to the proposed transcontinental line and the Grand Trunk Pacific railway. Messrs. Bays and Wainwright, of the G. T. P., have been in daily conference with the ministers, and rumor has it that the bargain will be something like this:

The government has decided to built from Moncton to Winnipeg and to lease the road for fifty years to the Grand Trunk Pacific. The Grand Trunk Pacific will pay operative expenses only for the first five years. For the next successive five years the company will pay not over working expenses, but not to exceed three per cent.

On the line between Winnipeg and the Pacific Ocean, the government will guarantee three per cent bonds to the extent of 75 per cent of the cost of construction, but the maximum amount to be guaranteed on the prairie section is not to exceed $13,000 per mile. The mountain section is to be reckoned as 500 miles.

From Winnipeg to the Pacific the road will be built and owned as well as operated by the Grand Trunk Pacific. It is understood that the company will have to pay three per cent interest from the date of issue, that is, when the road is completed on the prairie section bonds.

On the bonds for the mountain section the company for the first five years will only have to pay to the government on such surplus as exists after the payment of working expenses, but in any case this will not exceed 3 per cent. After five years the company will have to pay 3 per cent. The mountain division bonds, like the prairie section bonds, will be issued on the completion of the road. In this way the Grand Trunk Pacific will finance the whole construction from Winnipeg to the Pacific Ocean, and add interest to the cost thereof.

The road from Moncton to Winnipeg will be constructed under the supervision of a government commission. The Grand Trunk Pacific will deposit with the government $5,000,000 in cash or approved securities, as security, the government to pay three per cent on the cash and the interest that may be received on these securities. This deposit will be released by the government so that it may be available to the company for the construction of the last section of the line, wherever that may be.

The capital of the Grand Trunk Pacific, which is now placed at $70,000,000, will be reduced to $45,000,000. This will comprise $25,000,000 preferred stock and $20,000,000 common stock. The latter will be owned and controlled by the Grand Trunk of Canada. In this way it will be seen that the Grand Trunk is so interested in the project. Running powers will be given to any railway from Winnipeg to Moncton on such terms as may be agreed upon by the governor-in-council, having due regard for the interests of the Grand Trunk Pacific as operators and lessees.

The equipment of the whole line will require to be furnished by the Grand Trunk Pacific, and must be secured as rapidly as the development of the traffic demands. The rates on the whole line will be subject to the governor-in-council in railway commission, but must not be reduced below such a figure as shall enable the Grand Trunk Pacific to pay rental to the government. A majority of the directors of the Grand Trunk Pacific must be residents of Canada.
